

"For though my faith is not yours and your faith is not mine, if we each are free to light our own flame, together we can banish some of the darkness of the world"

Rabbi Lord Jonathan Sacks zt'l (1948-2020)

Holocaust Memorial Day 2021

Be the light in the darkness

Be the light in the darkness today

On Holocaust Memorial Day 2021 we reflect on the depths to which humanity can sink, but also the ways individuals and communities resisted that darkness to be the light, before, during and after the Holocaust.

Increasing levels of denial, division and misinformation in today's world mean we must remain vigilant against hatred and identity-based hostility. Rapid technological developments, a turbulent political climate and world events beyond our control, can leave us feeling helpless and insignificant. The utterly unprecedented times through which we are living are showing the very best of which humanity is capable but also – in some of the online antisemitic abuse and conspiracy theories being spread on social media – the much darker side of our world as well.

“We will continue to do our bit for as long as we can, secure in the knowledge that others will continue to light a candle long after us”

Gena Turgel MBE, survivor of the Holocaust (1923-2018)

At Yad Vashem, we know our responsibility to the six million victims of the Holocaust is to be that light in the darkness. Through our vast collection of survivor testimonies, our world-renowned academic research, our educational seminars, we are confronting Holocaust denial, distortion and misinformation daily.

Stand up to Holocaust denial and remember our Holocaust survivors' life stories by supporting Yad Vashem UK.

Thank you for your kind and generous support
